PROPERTY DESCRIPTION

This 17.55 acre tract in Jasper County offers an excellent opportunity for buyers seeking a manageable recreational property, hunting tract, or private homesite with acreage. With a well laid out, generally square property configuration, the tract is easy to navigate and well suited for a variety of uses.

An existing interior road system provides access throughout the property and, with minimal maintenance, could quickly be restored into a well-established trail and road network. A food plot is already in place and is currently being utilized for deer hunting, providing an immediate recreational benefit. The same area could also lend itself well to a future homesite depending on the buyer's vision.

For someone looking for a smaller hunting property without the maintenance and expense associated with managing a large tract, this property offers an attractive balance of usability, recreation, and affordability. It would also make an excellent setting for a home or weekend retreat with enough acreage to maintain privacy and enjoy the outdoors.

The property is accessed by a deeded easement. See plat for additional details.
