An aerial photograph of the Flatrock Creek Ranch in Mills County, Texas. The ranch is outlined by a solid red line. A dashed white line indicates a ranch road, and a yellow dashed line shows a cross fence. A blue line represents a creek, and a blue line with a dashed red border indicates the Colorado River. Two green areas represent food plots, and two yellow circles with black outlines represent gates. The map also shows County Road 432 at the top right. A legend in the bottom left corner provides symbols for the property line, ranch road, cross fence, creeks, food plot, gate, stock tanks, and a scale bar (0 to 250 US Survey Feet and 0 to 0.1 US Survey Miles). A north arrow is also present.
